EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

In specification, page 1, line 5, inserted --- This application is a 371 of PCT/JP03/08563 07/04/2003.-----.

Remarks

In light of the continuing data of the instant application, the amendment to the specification submitted on 02/03/2005 should be inserted to: This application is a 371 of PCT/JP03/08563 07/04/2003. Since the amendment affects only formal issues that have no effect on the legal scope of the patent, no authorization for these amendments was required.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 87-100 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Prior art of record fails to disclose or fairly suggest, alone or in combination, a backlight apparatus, comprising: a long tubular fluorescent tube; and a pair of inverter transformers for converting input voltages into high voltages and supplying high voltages having opposite phases to the ends of the fluorescent tube, and particularly including "wherein each-one inverter transformer of the pair of inverter transformers is positioned in close proximity to one end of the fluorescent tube and the other inverter transformer of the pair of inverter transformers is positioned in close proximity to the other end of the fluorescent tube”, in combination with the remaining claimed limitations as recited in claims 87 and 88 (claims 89-93 are allowed, since they are dependent on claim 87).

Prior art of record fails to disclose or fairly suggest, alone or in combination, an inverter circuit used in a pair for driving a long fluorescent tube provided in a backlight apparatus, wherein, when a pair of the inverter circuits are used for driving the fluorescent tube, one inverter circuit of the pair of inverter circuits is positioned near--in close proximity to one end of the fluorescent tube and the other inverter circuit of the pair of inverter circuits is disposed near in close proximity to the other end of the fluorescent tube and particularly including “the length of a connection between the one inverter circuit and the one end of the fluorescent tube being substantially shorter than the distance between the one inverter circuit and the other end of the fluorescent tube, and the length of a connection between the other inverter circuit and the other end of the fluorescent tube being substantially shorter than the distance between the other inverter circuit and the one end of the fluorescent tube”, in combination with the remaining claimed limitations as recited in claim 94 (claims 95-97 are allowed, since they are dependent on claim 94).

Prior art of record fails to disclose or fairly suggest, alone or in combination, a fluorescent-tube driving apparatus for driving a plurality of fluorescent tubes that are disposed in parallel to one another so that the longitudinal directions thereof are substantially oriented to the same direction, the apparatus comprising:

a first plurality of inverter circuits for supplying high voltages to the ends at one side of the fluorescent tubes, which are positioned in close proximity to such ends at one side of the fluorescent tubes and particularly including "a second plurality of inverter circuits for supplying high voltages to the ends at the other side of the fluorescent tubes, which are positioned near--in close proximity to such ends at the other side of the fluorescent tubes, the length of respective connections between the second plurality of inverter circuits and the ends at the other side of the fluorescent tubes being substantially shorter than the distance between the second plurality of inverter circuits and the ends at the one side of the corresponding fluorescent tubes", in combination with the remaining claimed limitations as recited in claim 99 (claims 99-100 are allowed, since they are dependent on claim 98).

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
